problems posed by syria s chemical weapons attacks egypt s ouster of an elected government and myriad other global dilemmas beg the question of whether and how the world can be governed the challenge is addressing what former UN secretary general Kofi Annan called problems without passports environmental economic humanitarian and political crises that threaten stability prosperity and even human survival everything is globalized everything except politics which remain imprisoned behind national borders the world has changed but our basic way of managing it has not we pursue fitful tactical short term and local responses for actual or looming threats that require sustained strategic longer run and global actions with clarity and passion Thomas G. Weiss argues for a diversity of organizational arrangements some centralized some decentralized and a plurality of problem solving strategies some worldwide some local he proposes a three pronged strategy the expansion of the formidable amount of practical global governance that already exists the harnessing of political and economic possibilities opened by the communications revolution and the recommitment by states to a fundamental revamping of the United Nations pulling aside the curtain of big data buzz this book introduces C-suite and other non-technical senior leaders to the essentials of obtaining and maintaining accurate reliable data especially for decision making purposes bad data begets bad decisions and an understanding of data fundamentals how data is generated organized stored evaluated and maintained has never been more important when solving problems such as the pandemic related supply chain crisis this book addresses the data related challenges that businesses face answering questions such as what are the characteristics of high quality data how do you get from bad data to good data what procedures and practices ensure high quality data how do you know whether your data supports the decisions you need to make this clear and valuable resource will appeal to C-suite executives and top line managers across industries as well as business analysts at all career stages and data analytics students the book looks at decentralization governance of President Museveni era that was registered in Uganda of the local government status 1987 resistance councils status 1993 as well as into the 1995 constitution operationalized by the local government act 1997 that devolved legislative fiscal planning budgeting functions to districts municipal councils as well as their lower tier levels whose idea was to involve the people in a way they were governed the dream that have not been achieved looking at what the cries of people are as expressed in all sectors this book analyses decentralization from 1997 to 2019 and deduces that the first phase of it 10 years that is up to 2005 was a success that time the districts were 69 in number but beyond that time it was not at all and up to now as it is continuously becoming harder to manage those very many administrative units that jumped from just 39 districts in 1991 to 134 districts in 2020 as well as municipalities created alongside districts that now stand at 41 2018 all contributing to formation of a member of parliament that total to 459 mps 2018 all this has led uganda to have a very poor governance system as even primary sectors of health education agriculture and economy are in a dilemma state leave alone local revenue collections that are directed from source to centre before expenditure and the districts have to request back to do any activity including emergencies like garbage management repairs and salaries making services delivery impossible to be efficient and effective in all ways at these levels the book is based on secondary data that reported on governance issues of the day as written in ugandan media that were people s feelings as issues of the time as well some journals observations and interviews the book introduces decentralization governance of uganda identifies current state of affairs of service delivery presents why there was need for many new administrative units and their state now looks at history of parliament feudalism identifies lost pride of ugandans proposes what regional tier governance can address as well as linking the past with today s ugandan governance finally the book proposes prerequisite regional tier power centres relevant to today s uganda and concludes with models that can help us achieve vision 2040 and therefore proposes immediate need to implement regional tier governance that will establish all three arms of government at regional centres of uganda remember it was agreed to be implemented by those that deemed it under article 178 3 it is apparent that all regions should therefore implement it as a solution to service delivery that is very poor now budgeting is probably the single most important function in government considering the amount of money a government spends each year on various expenditure programs and activities as well as the time it spends in preparing the budget appropriating funds for these activities and finally executing them this book integrates the complex theory and practice of public budgeting into a single text written in a simple concise and easy to understand manner the fundamentals of public budgeting and finance captures the multidimensional perspective of public budgeting that students as well as practitioners will find useful
